ABOUT PSCNY

We are a private psychiatric practice in Central New York. PSCNY helps adult and older teens overcome daily challenges complicated by emotional or psychiatric health problems.

Stress, anxiety, low self-esteem, anger or depression may prevent one from keeping up with life's responsibilities. Without help, individuals may sink into isolation and patterns of self-destructive behavior or seek to escape through unhealthy life styles, drugs, and/or alcohol. We help individuals discover that there is always a choice and an opportunity to change.

PSCNY is dedicated to diagnosis and treatment of disorders of thinking, feeling, and/or behavior affecting adults and older teens. We offer a unique and diverse experience with the involvement of a psychiatrist in a comfortable surrounding. Our goal for each client is to create a balanced life style.
